The Dandy Hull and His Little realized on the investment. Bar'l.

Regent Gere Still Roosting "Old Si" and His Title.

LINCOLN, Neb., June 10 .- The principal topic of conversation here is the extremely low bail bond required of D. G. Hull, the late custodian of our government building. Even the Lincoln Journal, that never means to say anything, gave the on earth where roses grow in such Uniled States district judge for the district of Nebraska a backhanded slar the other day for allowing a man whom I have been indebted for into go at large with only $1,000 bail, formation on various subjects, tells after having been indicted twenty or me that there is growing and in bloom thirty times for stealing $6,000. Mr. at his home this moment a Lamarque vine eight feet long. The stem is Hathaway evidently never know that eight inches through in the thickest trial would be worse than a farce. THE UNIVERSITY of Nebraska is in a muddle now, and no mistake, and the people all over the state are watching with a great deal of interest the course to be pursued by Hon. C. H. Gere, the newly appointed regent. Mr. Gere has already commenced his usual straddling process, and before the second meet.

And they sell for $1 a bud up north. process, and before the second meeting of the board his legs will be about in New Orleans there are as many as twice as long as they are now, and his body correspondingly short. The programme, as it now stands, is to retain the chancellor and take back Professors Emerson and Woodbury, and leave Professor Church out in the cold. But this is subject to change in case the State Journal can be sure of a little extra patronage by bringing the little extra patronage by bringing the change about. Mr. Gere holds the balance of power in the board of regents, and the people who do not know him are expecting great things. Some even declare that he is to clean out the institution, root and branch, but this class of people do not know their man. He has not got a decent sized back bone, and what he has got is made of the very poorest material.

POLITICAL NEWS is rather scarce at this writing. Gen. Si Alexander who has been expecting to be boosted clear into the gubernatorial chair by the G. A. R. boom, finds that there is a prospect of a real soldier coming to the front. Si was never in a battle till he went to 'Camp Dump," and never saw a live rebel or a dead one, either, for that matter, and was not out of the state during the war and how he ever became the commander of the G. A. R. is a mystery. It is now definitely arranged that Assistant Secretary of State Roggen is to be the German candidate (in his own mind) for secretary of state, and if beer drinking is the only qualification he is fully up to the standard. In this congressional district there appears to be no lack of candidates. We have heard the same of Gen. Manderson mentioned from your own city and Judge Weaver of Richardson, is also spoken of, while Hon. C. O. Whedon is prominently named as the anti-monopoly candid-ate, and the railroads have decided as a last resort, to bring forward Gen. Cobb, in case the anti-monops pre-sent too strong a front, but this is only in case all other dodges fail. In the Second district James Laird is the railroad candidate, and he and his friends calculate that they have a walk-away. Of course the Alliance will control Adams county, no one doubts that, but then he is mak-

Washington, figuring to have the smallest colonel in the United States (Col. Smith), of this city, appointed to position of superintendent of the Denver court house and postoffice that is soon to be built at that place. orrespondence of The Bee. NIOBRARA, June 8. - The past three days has been very warm and im proved the corn very materially. Small grain is doing well and promises a good yield; no frost in this section of the country to do any harm.

The News says Niobrara is to have a boom this month, probably the ex-tension of the C., M. & St. P. R. R. across the Missouri river, thence in a southwesterly direction to some point on the U. P. R. R.

WAROO NOTES. Correspondence of the Bee.

The John A. Andrew post of the G. A. R., with the Wahoo Base Ball club, are arranging for an excursion to Fremont and Columbus on the 15th F. M. Stratton's new brick block is well under headway, some fifteen or twenty men being engaged thereon. Maris-od Joseph & Graffe will soon commence large addition to their present commodious building.

The DeRoe house, the only first class hotel building in town, is still without an occupant. Why this so your correspondent is not informed. It stands on the corner of Fifth street and Broadway, an ornament to the town. It was built expressly for hotel and is four stories high including basement. Here is a good chance for some good hotel man.

The building boom still continues in Wahoo. Twenty to thirty buildings can be counted under construction, among the finest of these may be mentioned the residence of C. F. Williams, C. M. Copp and J. B. Stur-devant on Linden avenue and I. E. Phelps on Broadway.

Ostenberg & Co. are now shelling and shipping their immense crib of corn. This corn was mostly bought from thirty-five to forty-five cents per bushel. A handsome profit will be

Roses at New Orleans. New Orleans Commercial. I don't believe there is any region such an item would appear, or he would have suppressed it, for fear that the learned judge might in his profound wisdom decide that some of the legal notices might be published in a more legal sheet. The people of Nebraska have also spoken in tones loud enough to be distinctly understood on this question, and if this is an indication of the course to be pursued throughout this trial, Mr. Hull may as well be turned loose at once. were scraggy, and lean-looking, and in the florist's greenhouses. A single one of the pale-gold beauties will fill a room with perfume. They are as plenty down here as the jockey club races we saw dozens of handsomely dressed ladies with exquisite bunches of rosebuds at their belts and elsewhere in their dresses— the sweet, lovely flower that nature made, none of your abominable artificial things. The rose the French inhabitants of New Orleans are fondest of for decoration is called the "Gold of Ophir." Northern florists have it, but it is not common. The bud is especially prized for its beauty. It is a smallish rose, of a very pale pink, shading on towards the heart in a deep, rich gold color. Faint streaks of crimson touch the outer petals. It is one of the loveliest roses I ever
